

10-June-13

Hello!

It has been more than four months that we all were together in your college and personally for me it was a heart moving Lmad regional youth training programme in your college and till this moment I have not forgotten the love and warmth that all of you had showered on the team and me.

I have lived all my life in Mumbai but was never able to get connected with so many young people at one time in my city. The initiative taken by the team in Mumbai is admirable. I only hope the team in the city will keep on getting inspired and do similar training programme at regular intervals and inspire the young people of the city to live on the path of ethical values. The training programme was a heart changing experience for you and if so than I urge you to get up and take similar initiative around you or inspire many others in your college to reach out to the young people who will find purpose and meaning to live their life based on ethical values and live their life beyond themselves.

In the last six months after being in your college the youth team of Lmad could do lot of work in terms of training programme. We were successfully been able to organise training programmes for the senior executives of Air India. Followed by it we were busy planning and then running our annual workshop and youth conference at Asia Plateau, Panchgani, which just got concluded and we had 149 participants from different parts of the country and the pleasure that I derive out of the youth conference is immense. Twenty coordinators came to help and run the conference and the results were most amazing. Soon you can read the report and other details of the youth conference on the Lmad website www.lmad.in

I am sending your letter which you had written after lot of realisation and I am sure on reading your own letter it will take you back into the auditorium where we all had spent four important days of being together, the promises given by you to your own self will remind you where you have reached in life and if you have achieved all that you had thought in your quiet time then feel good about it and continue the journey of quiet time, if you are stuck and have not moved much ahead than this is the reminder opportunity in the form of your own written letter telling you to wake up take your life in own hand and move ahead. The best way to become what we want to become is through the process of listening and remaining quiet and seeking inner inspiration and once the inner connection, then all that you need is courage to take the positive step ahead and implement what you have experienced within. Do not be lazy and never leave today on tomorrow.

Hope to see you soon in your college, it's been long I have not come to your college and if opportunity gets created then I will definitely come to the college to meet and spend some time together.

All the best in life and become what you want to.
